

A WORD FROM OUR STAFF

Rev. Neal Wheeler
OUTREACH/PUBLIC RELATIONS

Don't assume that all self-identified Christians plan to attend Easter worship services. Just two weeks leading up to Easter, 20% of those LifeWay Research sampled in a recent survey were still unsure if they would attend an Easter service. Imagine what a personal invitation could accomplish with those who are unsure. Christians who automatically attend church on Easter should be mindful of their many friends, neighbors, and family members who haven't ruled out the idea of attending. It may be that if we will love people enough to give them a personal invitation that is what would make a difference to them. There are thousands of Easter invitations located throughout our church complex for us to use to invite everyone we see to church.

- Love people enough to be so joyful that they notice something is different. When they ask what's going on, tell them, "It's the season to remember what Jesus did for me!" and then invite them to church.
- Love people enough to tell them in a sentence or two about your story of following Jesus— risk a little discomfort in the conversation.
- Love people enough to park far away from the building entrances Easter Sunday.
- Love people enough to postpone a family trip for spring break so you can sit with them in worship.
- Love people enough to talk to them on Easter Sunday.
- Love people enough to slide toward the middle of the row.
- Love people enough to pray for people you know need God. Ask the Holy Spirit to work in their lives.
- Love people enough to help a family with three kids in uncomfortable clothes find the right group where their children will be loved.
- Love people enough to not say, "I can't believe you are in church today! You of all people! It's a wonder the walls don't fall down!"
- Love people enough to accept them if they dress up or down.
- Love people enough to help them know they are not a number.
- Love people enough that you pray during the invitation time that someone will take the step of accepting Jesus as their Savior.
- Love people enough to be hopeful that the best is yet to come.

Jesus loved people so much, He came back. He came back after they betrayed Him, hurt Him, and humiliated Him. Love people like Jesus for Easter.

STAN & JACKIE SHERWOOD (Panama)

We've had many opportunities to minister while we studied the Spanish language in Costa Rica. Recently, it was a blessing for our family to take part in medical clinics with a mission team from Florence Baptist Temple. It was an opportunity for us to show our compassion to the lost, practice our language skills, and present the Gospel. God provided us with 1,281 registered patients and 532 positive responses to the Gospel! We will soon be hosting medical clinics in Panama. During our first six months in Panama, we will work with another missionary family to establish a new church in Gualaca. We feel that this is the door that God has opened for us to begin preaching, teaching, and building relationships. Please pray with us for the people of Gualaca, and for us to find a home in Panama.
